

Clinical Examination Station 4

9 minutes with up to 1 minute for feedback

You are a surgical SHO in plastic surgery outpatients. The next patient is a 63 year old lady who is well known to the department. You are asked to examine her face, present your findings and discuss the underlying pathology and reconstructive principles.

Head and neck examination

Candidate performs an appropriate examination of the face and branches of the facial nerve and presents their findings in a comprehensive and succinct fashion.

Has an appreciation of the anatomy of the facial nerve.

Discusses presence of facial nerve palsy and possible causes.

Is able to undertake an appropriate discussion of the principles of reconstructive surgery for facial nerve palsy.

Overall impression of the candidate Please encircle your mark

FAIL BORDERLINE FAIL BORDERLINE PASS PASS

If you have any specific comments about this candidate please write them in the box.

--